Why Work Matters

Having a job makes life better.

Having a job helps you:

- Learn new skills

- Meet new people

- Earn money.

Earning money makes a difference in your life.

Earning money helps you pay for:

- Food

- Rent

- Bills

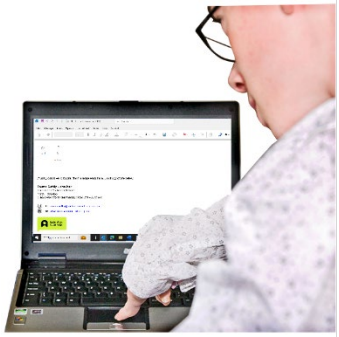

- Going out with friends

- Saving for a holiday.

Earning money helps you be more independent.

Having a job also helps you to:

- Keep busy

- Take part in the community

- Feel good about yourself.

Many people with an intellectual disability do not work.

Some people think people with an intellectual disability cannot work.

This is not true

People with an intellectual disability can work with the right support.

Click here to start your employment journey.